May Day Pageant Was Pretty Affair

May Day was celebrated on the campus Saturday afternoon, in true old English style. The pageant was a revival of that delightful custom when lads and lassies skipped over the greensward in gala costumes to choose their Queen of the May.

Miss Mary O. Parker, of Norfolk, was the Queen. Followed by her Court, she marched from the Main Building, passing between the two lines of the Daisy Chain, formed by the girls of the senior class who carried the chain. She was preceded by eight pages who heralded the coming of the Queen and her maids. A jester danced in and out among the maids as they courtesied to their Queen as she entered, attended by the little train-bearers. One of the maids left her place, stepping out to crown the Queen before she ascended her throne. A congratulatory cheer expressed the loyal enthusiasm of her subjects who had assembled in the background to pay homage to their ruler.

The entertainment in honor of the royal audience opened with an old-fashioned court dance by the Queen's maids. A lively dance by the jester was a pleasing contrast, and received appreciative applause. The Spanish pantomime added to the medieval setting its novel reproduction of the itinerant shows which were partly staged in the old carts and wagons. Other attractions were the Greek dance, the Cat dance, the Village dance, the Serbian dance, and the May-pole dance.

After the dances the senior girls planted two trees, one on either side of the library walk.

Three Victories For Tennis Team

The tennis team last week took a three-game trip and turned in three victories. The team met the racketers of Hampden-Sidney on Saturday at Hampden-Sidney and defeated the Tigers in four out of six matches. In the singles, Johnson, Person and Parrot defeated their opponents, while Pollard lost to his man. In the doubles, Johnson and Pollard won, while Person and Parrot lost, the score thereby being 4 to 2, favor William and Mary. This was the second defeat the Indians have handed Hampden-Sidney in tennis this year.

On Monday morning the team met and defeated our old rivals, the Uni-

Indian Harriers Defeat Randolph-Macon

Last Thursday the Indian track team defeated the Randolph-Macon Harriers by the decisive score of 94 1-2 to 31 1-2. The home team took 10 out of the 14 first places and made a clean sweep of it in four events, the 100-yard dash, 440-yard dash, javelin, and the shot-put. Hooff, W. & M. sprinter, stepped both the hundred and the two hundred and twenty in very fast time for the dirt track.

The feature of the meet was the mile, in which Winder, of W. & M., won first place and broke the college record for this event. The Yellow Jackets had counted on Darden, their star, as a sure win for this event, but the Indian runner stayed with his opponent and on the last fifty yards with a desperate sprint crossed the finish line several yards in the lead. The time for the mile was 4:41, being one second faster than the previous record held by Scrap Chandler, which was made in the dual meet against Richmond in 1922. The results are as follows:

100-yard dash—Hooff, W. & M., time 10:1; Moss, W. & M.; Lee Todd, W. & M.

220-yard dash—Hooff, W. & M., time 23 flat; Moss, W. & M.; Weaver, Randolph-Macon.

440-yard dash—Shields, W. & M., time 55 flat; Hancock, W. & M.; Yeates, W. & M.

880-yard run—Armstrong, Randolph-Macon, time 2:6 3-5; Wells, W. & M.; Hamilton, Randolph-Macon.

Mile run—Winder, W. & M., time 4:41; Darden, Randolph-Macon; Mapp, W. & M.

Two-mile run—Weaver, Randolph-Macon, time 11:23; Baker, W. & M.; VanLear, W. & M.

120-yard high hurdles—Moncure, W. & M., time 18 3-5; McCutcheon, Randolph-Macon; Crouse, Randolph-Macon.

Co-ed Dance Friday Was Great Success

Stags who did their duty, boys who talked sweet and music that did justice to the "Old Dominion's" reputation, featured the co-ed dance Friday night.

The boys realized with relief that the girls were only teasing when they talked of getting stuck at a co-ed dance. There were plenty stags to assure everyone a rush; in fact, the boys got such a rush that they could not keep track of their numerous breaks.

A huge bunch of balloons formed the center of a network of paper streamers in green, silver and gold.

The balcony was crowded with eager spectators, each trying to see who was getting the grand rush. One fessor was heard to remark: "Every boy I have seen in the balcony tonight claims that he is a track man and not allowed to attend the dance."

Many visiting girls, guests of the German Club, were present.

Anderson and Wilson Speakers For Finals

Dyce R. Anderson, president of Randolph-Macon Woman's College, of Lynchburg, will deliver the commencement address, and James Southall Wilson Poe, professor of English at the University of Virginia, will be the alumni day speaker at the closing exercises of the 231st year of the College of William and Mary. Mr. Wilson, who was a member of the class of '04, taught history here for several years before going to the University to take up his work there.

Finals begin on Sunday, June 8, when the baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by the Rev. G. Freeland Peter, of Richmond. The following day will be given over to the Phoenix and Philomathean Literary societies for their annual inter-society contests in debate, declamation and oration.

Shewmake Accepts New York Offer

Oscar L. Shewmake, formerly professor of law at William and Mary, has declined to become a candidate to succeed himself as a member of the State Corporation Commission. He has accepted an offer from a New York concern and will enter on his duties as general counsel to this company December 1.

Mr. Shewmake received the offer in February, feeling that he would be bound to become a candidate in the general election should he be nominated in the Democratic primary, to be held on December 5, he issued a statement declaring that he would not consider the nomination.

Since leaving William and Mary Mr. Shewmake has taken an active part in the welfare of the college. He has always been an ardent supporter of the school, taking an especial interest in athletics.

Mr. Shewmake has been prominent in the public life of Virginia for several years. He served as attorney for his county, and was chairman of the Democratic party of his county for eleven years. He served as counsel to the State Tax Board from 1916 to 1918, and from June, 1918, to September, 1919, he was counsel to the commission. He was named to succeed Major Forward as a member of the State Corporation Commission in December, 1923.

He declared that the offer received was too attractive to be refused by a lawyer of moderate means with a family dependent upon his earnings.

Athletic Council Elects Officers

At a meeting of the men students held in the chapel Wednesday morning, the following officers were elected to serve on the Athletic Council for 1924-25:

President—Jack Chalkley.
Vice-President—Allison Hooff.
Secretary and Treasurer—Johnson Moss.

Indians Hand Devil Dogs First Defeat Of Season

The William and Mary Indians showed their wares in a brilliant manner last Thursday when they nosed out the Quantico Marines in a weird game, in which practically every conceivable play in baseball was used. The contest terminated in a brilliant 10-inning battle, with the Indians holding the large end of a 14-to-13 score. The Indians virtually struck their hitting stride against the Marines, pounding out an impressive victory with their timely blows.

The Marines, with a veteran and experienced team, had been making baseball history in Virginia this season and were fresh from victories over Virginia and Richmond when the William and Mary nine staged a whirlwind finish over them, humbling their courageous aggregation in their first defeat. A rejuvenated batting order met the offerings of the Quantico hurlers to the tune of fourteen hits, lacing out a beautiful string of effective and opportune drives.

Slim Richmond, who received the mound assignment for the Indians, was monarch of all he surveyed until the seventh inning, when, after holding a 10-to-3 advantage for some time, his hitherto elusive offerings caught the eye of the Marine batsmen and he was forced to retire under a barrage that netted the Marines four runs. Bob Saffelle finally took the situation in hand and calmed the "Devil Dogs" attack, after they had battered Elmore and Lane for four more counters. Tying the score in the ninth.

In the initial frame the Indian bats forced the lanky Abbott to the show-ers, and the veteran Kyle, who took the Marine mound, was able for a moment only to stop the scoring, for Coach Tasker's proteges, desirous of more horsehides, were not to be deprived of them so easily and they inflicted severe punishment to two more opposing hurlers before the affair ran its course.

Denton featured the William and Mary attack, swatting the sphere at the .500 mark throughout the game; Hicks and Parsons vied in honors with Denton and distinguished themselves with their pretty stick-work.

The Indian nine played a crafty game and showed flashy speed and brilliant passing. A large part of their scoring was accomplished in the first few innings of the game, and the diamond lads, apparently satisfied with their margin, did not appear inclined to force the issue to a

Indian Sprinters Bow To Richmond U.

Six Indian-Spider track and field records were broken at Stadium Field, Westhampton, last Saturday, when the William and Mary track team was defeated by the University of Richmond in a dual meet between the two institutions by the point score of 83 to 43. The Indians had the better of the field events, but the Spiders were supreme in the races.

Old man dope was upset in the century when Mahaney, a Richmond dark horse, nosed out Hooff, lightning Indian sprinter, by inches. Another thrilling race was the 220-yard dash in which Hooff again lost by a narrow margin. Winder and Dekle ran a sensational race in the mile, and again the Spider was fortunate, Winder losing by a scant distance.

Smith's heave of the discus for a distance of 111 feet, was a noteworthy feature of the meet; Durham handled himself well in the pole vault and won with ease, while Taylor and Todd, in the javelin and shot-put, were outstanding in their events.

Hooff and Winder were high point men for William and Mary, with six points each, being followed closely by Durham and Taylor, who held five and one-half points each.

The Richmond meet closed the track season for the Indians, with them winning two out of three dual meets, and capturing third place in the secondary College South Atlantic:

The victory of the ball team over the Quantico Marines proves that they still have some of that old punch left, that used to be so evident in the past. This was the second defeat the Marines have suffered this year, Georgetown being the only other team to trounce Uncle Sam's Bulldogs. This was also the second defeat of the Marines at the hands of the Indians in the last two years.

* * * *

Winder's running in the Randolph-Macon meet was one of the best races seen here this year. His time for the distance was 4:41, which breaks the College record made by Chandler in 1922, the previous record being 4:42. With a cinder track on which to train next year, several college records should be broken. Winder should beat his own time for the mile next year.

* * * *

The baseball team should wind up the season with a victory tomorrow when they encounter the Yellow Jackets on Carey Field.

* * * *

Unless the alumni game goes through, Horace Hicks will play his last collegiate game tomorrow. We feel safe in saying that Hicks, for the past four years, has been the greatest shortstop that has ever held down this job for a William and Mary team. Although the old order must give way to the new, it will be many a season before another shortstop with the all round ability of Hicks appears in the line-up.

* * * *

The 100 yard dash last Saturday in the dual meet with Richmond was somewhat of an upset, or a joke. Mahaney, although a fast sprinter, has never been in the class with Hooff, or Goode either. The only way it can be figured is that the Richmond runner beat the gun by at least three yards, as he has never run it before in 10:1; neither has he ever defeated Goode, his team-mate, even in practice.

* * * *

Several members of the track team have entered the open meet at Norfolk tomorrow. The team will not go down, but only those who wish to pay their own way are making the trip. The College will be represented by a relay team, which will run against Randolph-Macon and probably Richmond.

Sexton To Pilot '25 Basketball Team

At a meeting of the basketball team held recently, Vincent Sexton, of Graham, W. Va., was elected captain for 1925, to succeed Captain Horace Hicks, who had piloted the team through the past season.

Sexton is a sophomore and has played two years with the varsity at the center position. In making the varsity in 1922-23, Sexton was the first freshman to break into the varsity line-up in five years. He is a member of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Meet Randolph-Macon Here Tomorrow

William and Mary will meet Randolph-Macon's ball team here tomorrow afternoon in the last game of the Indian's schedule before the final clash with Richmond University Alumni Day, June 10.

Returning from a four-day northern trip in good condition, Coach Tasker gave the team a day's rest. The past several days have been devoted to a hard work-out in preparation for the game tomorrow.

By defeating the Marines last Thursday week, the Indians boosted their average, and the game tended to increase the spirit of the team. Tomorrow's game was postponed from Wednesday. Due to the condition of the field it was impossible to use it on that date.

Lafayette Sends Indians To Defeat

The Indians lost the first game of their northern trip to Lafayette by an 8-to-5 score. The game was marked by ragged fielding and free hitting by both teams. Saffelle pitched a creditable game for William and Mary, but was the victim of poor support.

Although thirteen Indians fanned, they fattened their batting averages considerably. Hicks had a field day, scoring three runs, one of which was scored on a home-run. Holstead and Yeisley were the best performers for Lafayette.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

As the end of the session draws near, it seems fitting that those of us who intend to return next session should consider some of the conditions prevailing here, and should prepare to ponder over them during the summer, so that when College reopens in September some remedy may be suggested for the relief of those conditions.

The most serious condition at this time seems to be that of the indifferent attitude of students in general toward college activities of all sorts. Things of importance come and pass, often with not so much as casual mention. The lack of interest in the recent elections, the meagre attendance at games, and at debates and other affairs of educational value, are all indicative of something radically wrong. The disease seems to have spread into the localized organizations, until there is apparently no student interest in anything.

A diagnosis of the malady has been attempted by the authorities and by some of the more mature organizations, but as yet no conclusion seems to have been reached. Some say it is "spring fever"; others blame co-education, while there are many who express the belief that there has been a change for the worse in the quality of students as a whole.

The Flat Hat accepts none of these theories, yet it cannot attempt to advance one of its own. But this it knows, and knows full well—something is wrong. The Flat Hat has a suspicion that this "something" is within the students themselves, and it believes that the students can go a long way toward discovering the cause and remedying it.

Elsewhere in this issue is found an announcement of Mr. Shewmake's decision to accept an offer from a New York concern. The Flat Hat feels that William and Mary, as well as the State of Virginia, will be the loser in December when Mr. Shewmake leaves to take on his new duties. Since leaving William and Mary in 1903, Mr. Shewmake has taken an active interest in the College and has become a familiar figure on the campus. It is with regret that we hear of his decision to accept a position which will draw him away from William and Mary.

ADVICE TO THE LOVE LORN

Communications for this Column should be addressed to Miss Tessie Barefax and placed in the Flat Hat Box

Dear Miss Barefax:

When I came to William and Mary I had no idea of the life I would lead. I have been in Virginia for two years, but I never led the same life as I do here.

The first thing after I reached town, after Christmas, I fell for a town girl. As soon as I realized that I was in love with her, I saw another girl on the campus who I thought I liked better. But now I have really found my soul-mate. I thought that a boy on the campus had beat my time, but I find that its an alumnus and he has a date for finals. I have asked the lady for several late dates, but I am afraid that I will fall for some other girl before that time. What shall I do? Shall I go ahead and make these dates for finals and trust to luck, or shall I be guided by my past experience and probably fall for some other girl?

I know that I am fickle and I want to try this once to cure myself of this awful failing. I am good looking (at least the girls say so), and I have a good line. I can make time with any of them, but I am wondering if I am really in love this time. I think of the Texas girl every minute and she keeps me from my work. I go to the college shop every night, hoping that she will be there, so I can catch a glimpse of her and return into my rooms and dream.

PARLOR ATHLETE.

You are in a bad way, my friend. When you admit to fickleness you put it mildly. It takes all the time and energy I have to handle these transfers from Virginia. It's a wonder the great university wouldn't use a little discretion in the students they send us. Your experience up there probably removes you from any aid that I can give, and with your evident self-assurance I am surprised that you ask any. As for whether you should fall for another girl instead of the one you want for finals, I should say fall for both, and any others who will have you. I don't know what the modern girl would do if there weren't perennial lovers like you. Develop your fickleness, son, it's probably your only strong characteristic.

Dear Miss Tessie:

I've been wanting to write you a letter for a long time, but somehow just didn't get around to it. I'm known as being pretty lazy, and I reckon that's why I put off asking your advice. I go with a cute little chubby co-ed, and we are known as the steadiest case in college. We have a tree named for us on the campus, because we sit there so much. Of course, we have fusses now and then, but generally we get on very well.

What I want to ask you, is how on earth I am going to keep from getting shipped from school every week or so? You see, I love my girl a whole lot, and these enforced absences, even if they are for a few days, annoy me considerably. It is a whole lot of trouble for a man who is not inclined to extreme energy to have to change his plans every week or so and go home, when he is perfectly satisfied up here. I wish that you would use your influence in preventing such a waste of time and energy.

ATHLETIC ROMEO.

Romeo, the only thing for you to do is to develop some strategy. The next time they ship you, act as though you wanted to leave, and when you get to Newport News (Oh, excuse me, I didn't mean to let on who you are!) FOOL 'em—stay home, and let them know up here that they can't play fast and loose with a man of your importance and ability. When they ask you to come back, say: "No, thank you," very haughtily. I guarantee that the number of times you are shipped will decrease perceptibly.

Colleges and universities throughout the country are organizing student Republican clubs under the College Bureau of the Republican National Committee. Over Five Hundred Visitors Coming

The arrangements for the field mass to be held here Sunday have been completed and over five hundred visitors are expected from the neighboring towns. The Newport News council will be here in a body, while delegations will come from Portsmouth, Richmond, Hampton, Petersburg, Phoebus and Norfolk. Over a hundred soldiers from Fort Eustis are expected to attend. The affair promises to be the biggest ever staged on the peninsula and it is hoped that the students will avail themselves of this opportunity to witness the impressive ceremony.

The services will be held in the quadrangle immediately back of the main building. The mass will begin promptly at 10:45 and the Gibbons Club will be on hand, leading the procession. The service will take about an hour.

Everybody is cordially invited.

Prof. Lindsley Prepares Interesting Pamphlet

An interesting pamphlet on "Some New Double Selenates," by Professor L. C. Lindsley, of the chemical department of the College, has just been published. It is based on a thesis presented by Mr. Lindsley at the graduate school of Cornell University for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in 1922. The work is purely technical and would not appeal to anyone not interested in chemical research, but to the student of that science it will prove of value.

W. & M. European Party Sail June 3

Dr. C. C. Fichtner, Director of the William and Mary Summer School in Europe, announces that the students of this division of the College will leave Williamsburg on June first. They will go to New York where they will be joined by others of the party. After a few days at the Hotel McAlpin, during which time a visit will be paid to the New York Stock Exchange, the College men will sail on the United States Steamship Republic, landing at Cherbourg on the 13th.

Coucher Girls Taboo Smoking

The girls of Goucher College, Baltimore, in a torrid session, decided to put a ban on smoking. Reports of an unfavorable nature had reached the Student Board to the effect that some girls of the school had been seen smoking in public places.

This started the war against nicotine. After a spirited debate and a compromise the resolution was modified to read: "No smoking by a student in college buildings or in public places in the city of Baltimore will be allowed."

Sorority Banquet Held On Tuesday Night

Gamma Kappa Chapter of the Kappa Gamma Sorority held a beautiful banquet at the Colonial Hotel on Tuesday night. Blue was the predominating color and the tables were very artistically decorated with flowers and candles. Miss Bessie Porter Taylor, Social Director of Women at the College of William and Mary, chaperoned the party. The College girls present were: Misses Frances and Edna Gibbons, Betty Sue Jessup, Virginia Hardy, Anne Cole Townsend, Frances Leigh Riley, Nancy R. Pretlow, Burt J. Pressey, Elizabeth Kent, Helen Forsyth, Mary Nash Tatem, Josephine Barney, Anita Rucker, Margaret Holman, Lowndes Scott, Anna Bell Dennis, Katherine K. Holman, Margaret Thompson, Thomas Bland, Virginia Lee, Mildred Vaiden and Elizabeth Fristoe.

Clarence Norsworthy Improving In Hospital

Clarence Norsworthy, a student from the College of William and Mary, was recently operated upon for appendicitis at Riverside Hospital in Newport News, and his condition is so much improved that he was taken to his home in that city Wednesday. He is expected to return to the College on next Sunday. On Tuesday several College men, including Ray E. Reid, J. Pat Murphy, Melvin Thorpe and Billy Bozarth, motored down and spent the afternoon with Mr. Norsworthy.

College Seniors Entertain Sophomores

The Senior Class of the College of William and Mary entertained the Sophomores at a beautifully appointed tea Wednesday from three to five at the Pocahontas Tea Room, opposite the College campus. The rooms were decorated with class colors and were lovely with spring flowers and the mellow glow of candles shaded with pink. One hundred and fifty guests were entertained and a most delightful social time was enjoyed.

Miss Ryerson's Etchings To Be Shown At the College

Miss Margaret Ryerson, of Boston, who has just given an exhibition of her etchings in Richmond, will show her work in the Art Room of the College of William and Mary on Friday evening, May 23rd, at eight o'clock. An exhibition of Miss Ryerson's work was held recently at the Art Institute of Chicago, receiving favorable attention of critics in that city, and several of her etchings were shown at the Paris Salon last spring. Miss Ryerson is a member of the Print Makers' Society of California, the Brooklyn Society of Etchers and the Washington Water Color Club. The public is cordially invited to see the exhibit at William and Mary and to also meet Miss Ryerson.

The following verses were composed by Nancy French, of the class of 1923:

THE BELLS OF WILLIAMSBURG.

The bells of Williamsburg,—
They rang, and as they tolled
They sang me pleasant things,
And stories, sweet and old:—

Of belles of Williamsburg,—
Some say the country's best;
There's beauty in the most of them,
And sweetness in the rest;

And beaux of Williamsburg,
Whose chivalry still tells
Their pride and fame and family name
And—love tales to the belles.

The belles of Williamsburg
How sweet and clear they ring
As gentle tales of beaux and belles
Of Williamsburg they sing!

versity of Richmond. The match was played on the courts of the Country

Club of Virginia. The team won every match from the Spiders with the exception of the first doubles, which Johnson and Pollard lost. The team showed very good form, taking most of the sets by very wide margins. The same afternoon they journeyed over to Ashland and defeated the Yellow Jackets by taking four out of six matches. All the singles were won with the exception of one, which Person, playing number one against Randolph-Macon, lost. In the doubles we split even, Johnson and Pollard losing and person and Parrot winning. The trip as a whole was very successful. The Randolph-Macon match completed the Indian tennis schedule for the year.

Program For "Kempy" Completed

The program for "Kempy," the three-act play by J. C. Nugent and Elliott Nugent, which will be presented by the Drama Class (English 235), in Cameron Hall, on Monday, May 26, 1924, at 8 p. m., for the benefit of the baseball equipment fund, has been completed.

Cast of characters:

"Dad" Bence.....R. B. Wynne
"Ma" Bence.....Josephine Carter Barney
Jane Wade.....Anne Cole Townsend
Ben Wade.....J. Carter Adams
Kate Bence.....Mildred Vaden
Ruth Bence.....Mary Nash Tatem
Kemp James.....Charles P. Pollard
"Duke" Merrill.....William H. Morrow

Synopsis:

Act I.—Living room of "Dad" Bence's home, Nuttley, New Jersey.

Act II.—The same that evening at nine o'clock.

Act III.—The same an hour later.

"Kempy" is a comedy that has never failed to provoke laughter during its long engagements in the big cities. The story is built around the elopement of Kate Bence, a young woman of high notions, with "Kempy," the young plumber-architect, who comes to fix the water pipes. Each character is well rounded and represents perfectly a type of small town folk.

The general direction of the play is under Assistant Professor Irving H. White, of the English department; scenery and costumes are under the supervision of Assistant Professor Gertrude L. Carey, of the Fine Arts department; Thomas P. Chapman and George W. Reilly will have charge of stage management.

Tickets are being sold by the students on the campus and can also be secured at the college shop for fifty cents.

greater advantage until the score was tied in the ninth, and slowed their play at certain stages of the game. The Indians burst forth in the tenth with the final punch, when Denton doubled to right, Parsons singled and Hall made a miscue.

The victory at Quantico broke the Marines' string of consecutive victories, and brought the Indians into the limelight as the conquerors of the strongest team in the South Atlantic division.

Are They?

They say that things are quieting down, that times are getting slow,

If this is true, I'm telling you, its got me on the go.

With meetings, dates, and baseball games, besides the campus scandal,

To most of us without a doubt, is more than we can handle.

We've come to school to work, we say, and truly learn our books, To lay aside the trivial things, for instance—how one looks.

With concerts, dances, revival tents and others I could mention, I'll tell you as a truthful friend, they surely take attention.

But not content with all these things, which come and take our time, We mix ourselves in politics, and have to voice our chime.

If things are really quieting down, and times are getting slow, I'll promise you to say no more, for really I don't know.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 28

Marguerite Courtot, in "The Steadfast Heart."

George Arliss, in "The Man Who Played God."

He held the world spellbound at his feet, while from his sensitive fingertips came harmonies that brought the plaudits of the multitude. He won a beautiful girl's soul. Faculty Banquet Held At Colonial

The dining room at the Colonial Hotel was the scene last Saturday night of a most enjoyable banquet which was held by the faculty as a general get-together for themselves and their friends.

Professor H. C. Krebs presided as toastmaster and Dr. John Garland Pollard held the office of "jokemaster" throughout the evening, much to the delight of everyone present. Speeches by several of the faculty were called for, but very few of them reached a serious subject. Dr. John Lesslie Hall stated that reports of his ability to consume large quantities of food were without ground. He also spoke of the fact that members of the faculty are not as well acquainted now as they were when the College was smaller. Miss Helen Weeks was the spokesman for the women of the faculty.

In a short speech, which he declared was unprepared, Dr. Chandler discussed the aims of William and Mary, stating that this institution makes its appeal not to the rich student, but to those of moderate circumstances. In deploring the fact that there is not as much social life among the members of the faculty as there should be, Dr. Chandler suggested that the banquet be made a more frequent affair.

Cooper-Pearsall

Of interest here is the announcement received by W. T. Hodges, alumni secretary, of the approaching marriage of Miss Edna May Pearsall to Mr. Frederic Waldemar Cooper, of Westfield, New Jersey, to take place Wednesday, May 28.

Mr. Cooper will be remembered as a student of the college from 1916 to 1920.
